

Birding Bingo

Go to Lake Los Carneros and bird watch! Fill out the bingo below with your observations.

You spot a bird with blue on it.	You spot a bird singing.	You see a bird of prey (hawk, kite, eagle, falcon).	You see a bird nest or birds carrying twigs, grass or other nesting material.	You spot a black bird.
You see a gull.	You look up a bird identification.	You spot a bird with red on it.	You find a feather.	You see a raptor perch (tall pole with boards for hawks and other raptors to perch on).
You spot a bird eating something.	You see a bird with long legs (heron, egret, stilt, avocet, etc.).	Yay, you're birding! Free Space!	You see waterfowl (duck, goose, swan, coot, etc.).	You draw a picture of a bird you watched.
You spot a bird swimming.	You spot a bird cleaning its wings.	You write down a birding observation on your Lake Los Carneros bird list.	You spot a brown bird.	You find bird poop.
You see a murder of crows (a murder is what birders call a group of crows).	You spot a white bird.	You see a woodpecker hammering at a tree, pole, or house.	You see a nesting box.	You spot a bird in a tree.

