

Birding Bingo

Sit by a window or go outside and bird watch! Fill out the bingo below with your observations.

You spot a blue bird.	You spot a bird singing.	You see a bird of prey (hawk, kite, eagle, falcon).	You read a book about birds.	You spot a black bird.
You see a gull.	You read a book about birds.	You spot a red bird.	You find a feather.	You see a bird taking a bath.
You spot a bird eating something.	You a bird with long legs (heron, egret, stilt, avocet, etc.).	Yay, you're birding! Free Space!	You see waterfowl (duck, goose, swan, coot, etc.).	You draw a picture of a bird you watched.
You read a book about birds.	You spot a bird cleaning its wings.	You write down a birding observation in your notebook or journal.	You spot a brown bird.	You find bird poop.
You see a murder of crows (a murder is what birders call a group of crows).	You spot a white bird.	You see a woodpecker hammering at a tree, pole, or house.	You see birds at the grocery store.	You read a book about birds.