SANTA BARBARA BIRDERS THIRD IN NATION WITH 215 SPECIES! BY JOAN LENTZ

he 1996 Santa Barbara Audubon Society
Christmas Bird Count, held January 4, tallied a whopping 215 different kinds of birds—enough to put it on top in California and third in the nation behind the Texas counts held at Corpus Christi and Mad Island Marsh.

"It takes so many different things coming together to make up a perfect Count Day," one participant remarked afterwards. This year everything came together.

After a week of rain, Count Day dawned with ideal weather conditions - high overcast and absolutely no wind. Although last year no montane species were to be found anywhere, this year there were numerous mountain birds, such as White-headed Woodpeckers, Red-breasted and Pygmy Nuthatches, Townsend's Solitaires, Cassin's Finches, and Red Crossbills. A good day on the boat counting birds on the Channel - two Sooty Shearwaters, a flock of Brant, Cassin's, and Rhinoceros Auklets - helped the total too. Several species missed last year, such as Cattle Egret, Spotted Dove, Northern Pygmy-Owl, Horned Lark, and Chipping Sparrow, turned up to be counted this year.

Dedicated, local birders scouted the area as best they could before the Count, often spotting "stake-out" birds to be located on the day itself. The Yellow-billed Magpie in Goleta, the Rose-breasted and Black-headed Grosbeaks at feeders in Goleta and Santa Barbara, the Steller's Jays near San Marcos Pass, and the Lewis's Woodpecker in Montecito all showed up to be counted.

Some of the stake-outs were returning birds which, like many humans, return annually to enjoy Santa Barbara's balmy weather and lush surroundings. The Black-headed Gull was back for its fifth year at East Beach; the Zone-tailed Hawk and Eurasian Wigeon in Goleta returned for a fourth; the Yellow-bellied Sapsucker in Montecito checked in for its third winter; and the Orchard Oriole at the Bird Refuge returned for a second time.

The real fun, however, comes in the surprises that nobody can predict before the Count. After the annual dinner held at the Museum of Natural History, when Karen Bridgers had called off all of the species on the regular list, it was time for the unexpected goodies. Among those were 3 White-faced Ibises, 3 Black Scoters, and a Clay-colored and a Harris's Sparrow.

Thanks for this tremendous effort goes to all of those who walked streets, tramped over mountain trails, and waded into sloughs to help tally the birds in the Christmas Count circle. Particular appreciation goes to Karen Bridgers for helping at noon at Goleta Beach and for an excellent presentation at the Count dinner.

Please save next year's Christmas Bird Count day - January 3, 1998 - and remember that Santa Barbara's reputation as one of the best birding spots in the country depends on all of YOU!

See insert for final Santa Barbara CBC tally.

FEBRUARY PROGRAM DROUGHT ADAPTATIONS OF DESERT PLANTS

WITH DR. STEVEN TIMBROOK

Wednesday, February 26 8:00 p.m. program; 7:30 p.m. refreshments Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History — Farrand Hall 1226 Puesta del Sol Santa Barbara, CA 93105

For more details, call the Audubon Office at (805) 964-1468.

THE GREAT DIVERSTIY of plants native to California is due in large part to the myriad habitats existing in the state. The three major desert regions of the U.S. - the Sonoran, Mojave, and Great Basin - have significant components within a few hours drive of Santa Barbara. With the season of peak bloom for these deserts fast approaching, Steve Timbrook's talk will show us where to go in search of desert wildflowers this spring. In addition, we will learn of the special adaptations that plants living in deserts have evolved to grow in these challenging environments. From the lowlands of Anza-Borrego to the alpine White Mountains, from Death Valley to Owens Valley, Dr. Timbrook, Executive Director of Ganna Walska Lotusland, will take us on a journey of beauty and discovery.

SPECIAL FIELD TRIP TO ANZA-BORREGO DESERT STATE PARK APRIL 4-6 WITH CATHY ROSE AND DAVID KISNER

Join Cathy Rose and David Kisner for this special trip to the Anza-Borrego Desert to experience Spring wildflowers and see Longeared Owls, LeConte's Thrashers, Lucy's Warblers, and other desert birds. Those who wish to meet to form carpools, please be at the Andree Clark Bird Refuge Friday, April 4 at 10:00 a.m. Participants will meet Cathy at Christmas Circle in Borrego Springs on Saturday, April 5 at 8:00 a.m. She will share her intimate knowledge of desert botany while David will help to identify birds. Call Paul Keller at (805) 968-7804 to reserve space (limited to 20) and for hotel and campground information. If after reserving a room you decide not to go, please call Paul before canceling your room reservation because there may be a waiting list. If enough people want to start Friday morning, Cathy will be available.

Study Birds at Santa Barbara City College

SBCC is offering The Biology of Birds (Zoology 138), a short course meeting 12:30 - 1:20 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, February 18 - April 17, with half day field trips on Tuesday mornings. Taught by Dr. Kristine Burnell, the class covers the anatomy, physiology, evolution, and behavior of birds. Field trips coincide with migratory periods and emphasize identification and classification. Reserve space at SBCC registration or first class. Website info at http://www.west.net/~ljfries/bio.htm.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

he rain had stopped and the sky was clear for Santa Barbara Audubon Society's annual Christmas Bird Count. It was a great day for birding, and many species showed up to be counted. (Results can be found in this issue.) Christmas "counters," friends, and families ended the day with a potluck feast at the Museum of Natural History. The success of the CBC is owed to several key volunteers. Their dedication and diligence in the weeks preceding the count and on the day of the count itself truly made the even a wonderful and enjoyable experience. SBAS is especially grateful to Joan Lentz and Karen Bridgers for organizing the count. Many thanks to Bob and Tomi Sollen for organizing the potluck dinner and to the Museum of Natural History for hosting the dinner. In addition, thanks go to Pat Kelly for putting together the birding teams. Last but not least, thank you to Count leaders and birders!

SBAS relies on the efforts and enthusiasm of many volunteers throughout the year. This dynamic group of people is the lifeblood of our organization. In particular, our board members deserve special recognition for their time and creativity. Many of SBAS's projects - from the Devereux wetlanders to Audubon Adventures - are spearheaded by talented board members. I also know that we have many enthusiastic members out there. We'd love to see you become a part of the SBAS Board of Directors for 1997-98. A Nominating Committee has started to compile names for possible 1997-98 board positions. The Treasurer position is definitely open for next year, and the Membership Chair position is currently open. Please consider joining a great group of people doing great work. We have fun too! Call me at (805) 566-9314 to find out about becoming a part of the SBAS Board.
