SANTA BARBARA'S BIRD COUNT: 200 SPECIES AND 2 INCHES OF RAIN!

By Joan E. Lentz

On December 31, 2005, in the midst of a major Pacific rainstorm, Santa Barbara birders proved once again that they were up to the challenge of counting birds in the Count Circle – no matter what! Amidst pelting rain, flooded roads, and generally lousy bird finding conditions, Santa Barbara Audubon Society's Christmas Bird Count tallied a very respectable total of 200 different kinds of birds sighted in the 24-hour period.

Have you ever tried doing a seawatch from shore when the rain is blurring your glasses, your scope, and your binoculars? Did you know, until Count Day, that most landbirds just don't move or sing in the pouring rain? Have you decided that yes, in fact, you DO need new raingear, because your poncho and jeans and baseball cap just got SOAKED?

These were some of the problems birders had as they fended off a mid-day lashing of solid precipitation that virtually precluded all birding for several hours. Fortunately, later in the afternoon, a window of sunshine allowed us to actually SEE a few birds, and to come up with a truly remarkable total, given the bleak situation.

Once again, scouting the CBC circle prior to Count Day paid off: we knew where to find the Snow, Ross's, and Cackling Geese. We knew where the Zone-tailed Hawk (back for its 13th winter) roosted. We knew where to look for the Red-naped Sapsucker in Montecito, the Tropical Kingbird near Ocean Meadows Golf Course, and the Scott's Oriole at Franceschi Park on the Riviera.

In fact, scouting for the Count beforehand, and birding in the area afterward produced an unprecedented total of 15 Count Week species. These species cannot be added to the total (if they could we would have done incredibly well!), but they do show that there were plenty of birds around the area that, were it not for the weather, perhaps could have been found on Count Day.

As always, the biggest thrill is the birds you don't know about beforehand—those that pop up on Count Day, especially if you have lots of expert birders scouring the territory. In this category, we found a Franklin's Gull, a Northern Saw-whet Owl, a Lesser Nighthawk, and a Dusky-capped Flycatcher. All are highly unusual for this time of year, and the owl and nighthawk have never been seen on a Santa Barbara Christmas Count, to my knowledge. Another newcomer to the Count was the Fulvous Whistling-Duck, present at the Goleta Sewage Treatment Plant since early December. And the Northern Waterthrush that showed up at the Santa Barbara Zoo was another great find.

In short, it was an unforgettable Count, and all you who participated deserve sincere thanks. I would also like to thank my wonderful assistant, Joan Murdoch, who organized all the sign-ups, and Karen Bridgers, who helped with fielding calls about birds from all over Santa Barbara. The Compilation Committee, those of us who have to sit down and crunch the numbers so that we know exactly how many birds and of what kind were seen, consisted of Dave Compton, Rebecca Coulter, Bill Pollock, Joan Murdoch, and myself. This is a time-consuming job, and I appreciate their volunteering their efforts for Santa Barbara Audubon and the birds of our area.

In case you may have forgotten, this is the second year in a row that our Count has been plagued by difficult, rainy conditions. Perhaps next year, we'll get back to our sunny, southern California weather?

Until then, keep on birding and enjoying our special Santa Barbara area. It is unmatched for beauty, for birds, and for the quality of its birders!

INTRODUCTION TO BIRDS OF THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA COAST

Joan Easton Lentz

Wednesday, February 22, 2006

Join Joan Lentz, Don DesJardin, and Peter Gaede for a slide presentation on their new book, just published by University of California Press.

For a bird's eye view of the region, let us take you on an imaginary journey along the world-famous Southern California coast. From San Luis Obispo County along the coast south to the Mexican border, an abundant avifauna has made this area a birders' destination for years.

Learn what species you can expect to see along our beaches and coastal wetlands, what habitats they frequent, and at which locations they can be found.

Books are available for purchase at the SBMNH bookstore and will also be available for purchase immediately after the presentation. Bring or purchase a copy for autographing!

BIRDING ODYSSEY OF ECUADOR

Roy Poucher

Wednesday, March 22, 2006

Roy Poucher will transport you on a birding odyssey from the high Andes of Ecuador (20,000'+) down to the steamy lowland (500') jungles of the Amazon. These extremes in elevation, being at the equator (for year-round maximum sunlight), make Ecuador a unique-in-the-world adventure of unsurpassed bio-diversity.

You will feel like you are sitting in a dugout canoe with Roy as he searches for birds while paddling on Amazon rainforest streams with native Indian guides. The photographs of the spectacular birds in a fireworks display of different colors and shapes will amaze you. Walking next to Roy on the high steep slopes of Yanacocha you will see a mind-boggling variety of hummingbirds.

These are just a few of the special treats that Roy has in store for you on this journey.

Roy Poucher has been a Sea and Sage Audubon trip leader and field trip assistant in their introductory birding classes for 14 years. He has led repeated multi-day trips to the Eastern Sierra, Santa Barbara, Yosemite, Arizona and Texas. His birding Big Years (1996 in CA; 1998 in the ABA Area) were major accomplishments (472 and 677 species respectively). In 2003 he designed and led spring warbler trips to the Upper Texas Coast and to the Great Lakes. In 2005 he did the same for shorebird trips to Texas (April) and the East Coast (August). His bird tour company, Bird Odysseys, has recently taken groups to Costa Rica, Ecuador and the Galapagos Islands. Trips to Africa and Costa Rica are in the planning stage.

Steve Ferry to State Audubon Board

Santa Barbara Audubon Membership chair and board member Steve Ferry was unanimously elected to a 3-year term on the Audubon CA state board, and as chair of the central coast Audubon chapters at their Jan. meeting. An active birder & outdoors man, Steve also volunteers with the Coal Oil Point Reserve. Plover Docent Project. A retired Raytheon program manager, Ferry is a long-time Goleta resident. Steve replaces Lee Moldaver, whose term on the state board recently expired. Congratulations, Steve!

Santa Barbara Audubon Field Trips

Everyone is welcome! These trips are fun for both beginning and expert bird lovers. Binoculars are useful for enjoyment of birds, but if you don't have a pair please call the trip leader and we'll lend you a spare. Trips are free unless noted.

Sandhill Crane Field Trip Sat. Feb 11th and Sun. Feb. 12th 2006

Target Birds: Sandhill Cranes, Burrowing Owls, Common Moorhen, Horned Larks, Loggerhead Shrike, Lark Sparrows, Blue-winged Teal, Marsh Wren plus many other species.

Leader: Jack Sanford
566-2191 or jacksanford@hotmail.com

Cost: free (camp ground fees $8-$10)

This Audubon field trip will visit the Kern National Wildlife Refuge, the Pixley National Wildlife Refuge, Colonel Allensworth State Historic Park and perhaps the Wind Wolves Preserve. It will be an overnight trip with free primitive camping (w/bathroom) available at the Kern National Wildlife Refuge or paid camping at Allensworth State Park if there are open spaces (w/bathroom and showers). Everyone must make their own vehicle arrangements and bring the necessary camping equipment, layers of clothes, food and drink plus birding equipment.

We will meet at 7 a.m. on Saturday Feb 11th at the Five Points Shopping Center parking lot near Carl's Jr. We will caravan from there to Lost Hills and then have lunch in the area. From there we will proceed to the Kern National Wildlife Refuge Visitor's Center. If you are traveling independently you can meet us there at approximately 1-1:30 p.m. It is approximately 220 miles to the KNW Refuge. Take Hwy 101 to Paso Robles. Take Hwy 46 east to Lost Hills. Once you cross Hwy 5 look for the sign to the Kern National Wildlife Refuge. The turn off is approximately 5 miles or less past Hwy 5. From the KNWR we will travel to the Colonel Allensworth State Historic Park to view the Burrowing Owls and check on camping availability. After determining where we will camp, we will travel to Pixley National Wildlife Refuge and view the Sandhill Cranes till dark. On Sunday morning we will bird the KNWR for several hours and then begin our return trip home with a side trip to the Wild Wolves Preserve off Highway 166 if interested. We will return home Sunday evening.

Ventura County Game Preserve (near Oxnard)

Saturday February 25, 2008
8:00am (car pool time) - 1:00pm

Target Birds: Waterfowl, Virginia Rail, Merlin, Peregrine Falcon, American Bittern, White-faced Ibis, Yellow-headed Blackbirds, etc

Leader: Guy Tingos

We will car pool from the Andree Clark Bird Refuge at 8:00 a.m. ($6.00 gas money to drivers). If you want to meet us at the Preserve take Hwy 101 to Camarillo. Exit Las Posas Rd. and go south to Hueneme Rd. and turn right. Go west and turn left on Casper Rd. About a mile after the left bend on Casper Rd. turn right into the Preserve and park by the green bungalows by 9:00 a.m. We will not be able to drive vehicles around the Preserve as we have in the past, therefore we must walk the area. "We will walk, we will talk, we will look, we will listen, we will learn." That is what "birding" is all about.

Lone Star Ranch Saturday March 25, 2006 7:30 a.m. at carpool place

Target Birds: geese, Common Goldeneye, Wood Duck, Lewis's Woodpecker, Bald Eagle, Clark's Grebe, American White Pelican and other water and song birds.

Leader: Dave Compton 965-3153, davcompton@earthlink.net

Take Hwy 101 to the La Cumbre Rd. exit in Santa Barbara. Go north on La Cumbre Rd. and turn left into the Five Points Shopping Center and park near Carl's Jr. (3925 State St). We will car pool ($5.00 gas money to driver) from this parking lot. Or you can meet us at 8:00 a.m. at the gate to the Lone Star Ranch (4001 Hwy. 154, pipe gate with large star on it). We must all meet at the gate and enter the ranch as a group. Wear walking shoes. Binoculars and spotting scopes are useful. Bring water and a snack. Enjoy ranch owners Lee Carr and his brother Charles Carr's hospitality at one of the best inland winter birding areas in the county!
